Incorrect Question #	Why is my answer incorrect			Why is this the correct answer
13	D I got confused that x with natural selection and artificial selection and even though it still would have been wrong			B Because it is not changing its mating song and isolating itself
21	B Because you want to get accurate results the temperature is the constant for both planes			D Because this is the constant of the experiment while making the temp has to stay the same
27	D I recalled that the nucleus is all made up of proteins and nutrients.			B Because the cytoplasm is a liquid and it means that it is mainly made up of water.
31	B Because Animal cells are Animal Eukaryotic cells because they have multiple of them.			D Because the question says that the cell does not have internal organelles like prokaryotes
43	B Because I thought that if you follow the scientific method you would get a similar answer everytime			D Even if follow the scientific method you still might get a different answer if you perform it again.
