

Reading Passage: Max and the Robot Adventure(Science fiction 4)

Max was a curious little boy who loved robots. One evening, as he was playing in his backyard, he saw a strange light flashing in the sky. Suddenly, a small, shiny spaceship landed in front of him. The door opened, and out came a friendly robot named Robo.

"Hello, Max! Do you want to go on an adventure to Robot Planet?" asked Robo. Max was very excited and quickly said yes. Robo gave Max a special helmet, and they both climbed into the spaceship.

The spaceship zoomed up into the sky. Max watched as Earth became smaller and smaller. Soon, they reached Robot Planet. Everything on Robot Planet was made of shiny metal. The buildings were tall, and there were robots everywhere.

Max and Robo explored the planet. They met funny robots that could dance and sing. Max tried to dance with them and had a lot of fun. Then, Robo took Max to see the Robot King. The Robot King was very kind and gave Max a shiny key.

"This key will give you a special power," said the Robot King. Max took the key and felt a warm, tingly sensation. Suddenly, he could talk to robots in their special language!

Max and Robo continued their adventure. They saw giant robot trees and even a robot lake. The robot lake was full of tiny, swimming robots that looked like fish. Max played with the robot fish and laughed.

It was time to go back home. Max said goodbye to Robo and the Robot King. The spaceship flew back to Earth and landed safely in Max's backyard. Max waved as the spaceship zoomed away.

That night, Max went to bed hugging his shiny key. He smiled, thinking about his amazing adventure to Robot Planet and his new robot friends.
