Title: "The Enchanted Forest"

In a land of dreams and wonder,
Where trees speak and magic's there to ponder,
Lies an enchanted forest, so wild and free,
A place where the impossible comes to be.

(1)

Once upon a time, in this mystical place,
Lived creatures of magic, with a smiling face.
The fairies, the unicorns, and the wise old owl,
All lived together, in a harmonious prowl.

The fairies danced with gossamer wings,
As the unicorns pranced and sang in rings.
Their laughter echoed through the glade,
A symphony of joy that never did fade.

(3)

One day, a young child named Claire,
With golden curls and a heart so rare,
Stumbled upon this forest by chance,
And the creatures there gave her a glance.

(4)

The fairies offered her a crown of flowers,
While the unicorns nuzzled her for hours.
The wise old owl shared wisdom untold,
As Claire's heart and the forest's bond grew bold.

(5)

Now, Claire visits her friends every day,
In the enchanted forest, she loves to stay.
With magic and wonder all around,
In this mystical place, joy can be found.
