

Reading Passage: The Magic of Seasons (Poetry 1)

Seasons come and seasons go, Changing weather, sun, and snow. Springtime brings the flowers bright, With colors shining in the light.

Summer follows, warm and long, Children laughing, singing songs. Days are sunny, skies are blue, Fun and games for me and you.

Autumn leaves in red and gold, Cooler breezes start to unfold. Pumpkins, apples, cozy sweaters, Crunchy leaves and windy weather.

Winter's next with chilly air, Snowflakes falling everywhere. Building snowmen, having fun, In the cold, but with the sun.

Seasons change, but joy remains, With each one, new beauty gains. From spring to winter, year by year, Nature's magic is always near.
