

Reading Passage: Timmy's Trip to the Moon (Science Fiction 1)

Timmy was a little boy who loved to dream about space. One night, he wished upon a star that he could visit the moon. To his surprise, a shiny spaceship landed in his backyard! A friendly astronaut named Captain Star greeted Timmy and invited him on a trip to the moon.

Excitedly, Timmy climbed aboard the spaceship with his teddy bear, Rocket. They zoomed through space, passing stars and planets. Timmy looked out the window and saw the Earth getting smaller and smaller.

When they landed on the moon, Timmy was amazed. The ground was covered in white dust, and he could see craters everywhere. Captain Star gave Timmy a special space suit and together they bounced around the moon, feeling light as feathers.

They found a big crater filled with shiny rocks. Captain Star explained that these rocks were moon rocks, and he gave one to Timmy as a souvenir. Timmy and Rocket played around, jumping high into the air because of the moon's low gravity.

After exploring the moon, it was time to head back home. They climbed back into the spaceship and waved goodbye to the moon. As they flew back to Earth, Timmy felt sleepy. By the time they landed in his backyard, he was fast asleep.

The next morning, Timmy woke up in his bed, hugging Rocket and the shiny moon rock. He wondered if it had all been a dream. But when he saw the moon rock, he knew his adventure had been real. Timmy couldn't wait to tell his friends about his amazing trip to the moon.
