Counter arguments:

Some people might say that Cloth towels are bad ^{for what reason?} so here are some arguments people say that reusable cloth towels are bad. Many people say that cloth towels are bad because you have to take the time to wash them. I think it's alright to take the time to wash it because all the pros of cloth towels outweighs all the cons.

Conclusion

In conclusion reusable cloth towels are better than disposable kitchen towels because they are cost and environmentally friendly. For all these reasons and more this is why I think that reusable towels are better than disposable towels. Hopefully you have made your decision about which one you think is better.
